ATTENTION: Orientation is now a requirement for all members, and guests - That means EVERYONE. Programs given every Sat. and Wed. morning at 8 am at the rifle range. People renewing or applying for membership must now attend an orientation prior to receiving their membership card.

The State RCO Grant final reports have been submitted to Olympia for approval. Club member and Engineer, Bob Smildgen stepped up and signed off on the final evaluation. This project started as an effort to build infrastructure for our new shooting range and started in 2014. It's been a long and sometimes frustrating job but, now, in July 2018 we have a beautiful and professional range.

I thank, from the bottom of my heart, each and every member and friend that worked so hard to make this happen (too many to name). There is much more to do but we have a great start.

Thanks again,
Steve and Cindy Rogers

Someone brought some pallets out and stacked them inside the rifle shed. Unfortunately they were stacked against the wall and pushed into the tile. Please leave stuff like that at the storage shed. Otherwise, ranges looking good - thanks for keeping it clean.

Other News Bits:

- With the help of John Waldenmaier and A-1 Petroleum, our propane tank is installed and operational. President Mark Bennett, Brad Coffey, and Dan Pensula got the ecology blocks in place to protect the tank and generator.
- The work party was well attended (17 members) and we got a lot of cleanup done. Mowing, weedeating, and raking - the place looks great. The carpentry crew finished installing the bird/bee screening in the rifle shed. Dan P. got a lot of repair work done on target stands. A big thanks from Mark for all that helped and worked so hard.
- Mark did some repair work on the pistol targets and is working with a contractor to see if we can drill under the road and run power from the generator to the rifle/pistol sheds.
- Scholarship: Victoria (Tori) Kretchman from CERHS came to the meeting Monday and gave a short presentation on her college plans - she will attend the Univ. of Hawaii with the goal of becoming a math teacher.
- We have a new club member who is a trained Chief Range Safety Officer and he is willing to provide a 10 hour training class for other members who would like to become RSOs. The more we have the better to spread the load for special activities at the range. More info coming soon.
- Preliminary work has started on next year's banquet with raffle prizes being discussed.
- The 50/50 drawing was won by Peter Schuetz. Winner gets half. The other half of the pot goes into the big drawing at the annual banquet. Every time you attend a meeting your name goes into this drawing.

Have a great summer. Steve Rogers, Editor
